Jaipur is the capital of India's largest state of Rajasthan Aamer's ruler, Maharaj Jai Singh 2, made it on 18 November 1726, and named it Jaipur on his name. Jaipur is called the Pink City (Gulabi Nagari). If you like Palace, castle, and you are interested in knowing the lifestyle of the era rulers, and then Jaipur city is the best tourist place for you. In Jaipur, there is a big castle, the fort whose architecture will surprise you.

City Palace - City Palace Jaipur is the festive venue. It was built between Sawai Jai Singh II and from 1729 to 1732 AD. The palace complex includes Chandra Mahal, Pritam Niwas Chowk, Diwan-e-Khas, Diwan-e-Aam, Queen's Palace, Bhaggi Kana, Govind Dev Ji temple and Mubarak Mahal. Now the Chandra palace has been converted into a museum, where handloom products and other similar exist, which reflects the cultural heritage of the state. You will be fascinated to see the architecture here, as well as from here you will be happy to see Puri Pink City.

Hawa Mahal - Hawa Mahal is also the main attraction of Jaipur. This palace was built in 1799 by Maharaja Sawai Pratap Singh. There are 953 windows for the air coming in the air castle, hence it was named as Hawa Mahal. The 5 story staircase has not been made to go upstairs in this building, it can be stepped up through the slope. It is said that Rajputana was built for women so that they can see what is going on in the city from inside the palace, but no one can see them from outside. It is made of red pink stones. There is also an archaeological museum, which you definitely see

Amber Fort - It is also called Aamer Fort. It is located in Aamer, which is located 11 kilometers from Jaipur. It was built in 1592 by King Mansingh. This was later extended by King Jai Singh I. It was formed by mixing red sandstone and marble, which reflects a mixture of Hindu-Muslim architecture. Its main entrance is towards the east, apart from this there are 3 more gates. Amber Palace has four courtyards, where there is also Diwan-i-Mango. You will also get an opportunity to ride an elephant in this palace, this ride will give you the entire castle, that too in the royal style.

Jantar Mantar Observatory - This is one of the largest observatories in the world. It was built at the time of Maharaja Jai Singh 2, here is the world's largest solarium in the celestial observatory. Maharaja Jai Singh II was interested in various subjects including architecture, astronomy, philosophy. He had a special interest in astronomy, because of which he started building the largest observatory in the country. At that time there were also geometric devices available, through which to measure the time, knew the condition of the constellation and used to observe the orbits around the largest star. These astronomical devices attracted astronomers and architects around the world.

Jaipur City wall - Jaipur city wall, surrounded by the city of Jaipur. It was built in 1727 by Maharaja Jai Singh II. It is 6 feet high and 3 meters wide. This wall has 7 gates.

Jaigad Fort - It is located on the hill of the eagle, in Aravali range. The Amer Palace is also seen from here. It was built in 1726 by Jai Singh II to protect the Amer Palace. This was given the same name. Its structure is similar to Amer Palace, it is also known as Vijay Kila.
