Title: Student Protests in India: Constitutional Protections, Criminal Law, and the Responsibilities of Security Personnel

The College is pleased to announce an upcoming webinar for students of LL.B. and B.A. LL.B.

In a democratic society, peaceful protest is an important constitutional right, but it is also subject to legal limitations and public order considerations. Understanding the legal framework governing student protests is essential for every law student to appreciate the balance between fundamental rights and statutory restrictions.

This webinar aims to provide a comprehensive understanding of the constitutional protections available to students, the criminal law provisions that may arise during protests, the legal powers and limitations of police and security personnel, and the remedies available in cases of unlawful detention, excessive use of force, or violation of legal rights. The discussion will include relevant constitutional provisions, recent legal developments, and practical case-based analysis to bridge the gap between theory and practice.
